

Miss O'Hara Declares Fact Finding Will Replace Political Pressure; G. O. P. Council Hears of G. I. Work

"It pays the taxpayer to use the fact-finding approach as guideposts to any program in welfare," Miss S. M. O'Hara, secretary of Welfare of Pennsylvania, told more than 60 members of the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women Tuesday.

Miss O'Hara was guest of honor at a Christmas tea held at the home of Mrs. John Y. Huber, Jr., Gulph Road, Haverford.

Discussing "New Perspectives in the State Welfare Program," Miss O'Hara said that "there is a growing realization of fact-finding as the beginning of any program of political action rather than response to pressure. Also if research is desirable to save us in time of war is it not obvious that it is equally important for the treatment of social ills?"

Illustrating the need for these new concepts in the welfare program she declared:

"There are on any single day in Pennsylvania, approximately forty thousand children, neglected or dependent away from natural homes."

"Out of more than 5,000 case records of adult criminals which I examined in the course of official duty not less than 40 per cent were the products of a broken home, broken by death, by the separation or divorce of parents or parental neglect. These and other less obvious facts lie at the bottom of delinquency crime."

Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans of Brookline, Delaware County, State chairman of the recently organized veterans' committee of the State Council of Republican Women told the members of a coordinated plan to aid returning veterans in their post-war problems.

"The purpose of the plan," Mrs. Evans said, "is to cooperate with other agencies helping returned service men and women so that discharged military personnel can have guidance during the period of readjustment."

Mrs. Evans who has long been active in the American Legion Auxiliary explained:

It will be the members objective to help homecoming veterans find their places as happy citizens in their communities. The veteran will depend largely on the local community to give him a new start in life."

Bureaus will be opened throughout the state to serve as information sources for the veterans. The purpose of those bureaus will be to guide the veterans to the proper agencies for the solution of legal problems and direct them where the necessary financial and financial aid, she said.

Mrs. Earle Hepburn, president of the council, reviewed the highlights of the State Council's 23rd annual convention and urged the members to "be good Republicans 365 days of the year."

Christmas music was played by Dorothy B. Power, harpist and two solos were sung by Ernestine Bacon Cairns, soprano, and members of the Merion Musical Club.

Mrs. Bessie Dobson Altman and Mrs. Sara Seltzer of Philadelphia were among the guests.

F. B. I. to Show Lions Club Pictures of Counterfeit Money

At the Tuesday meeting of the Bala Cynwyd Lion's Club further plans for the annual Christmas party were discussed as well as plans for a smoker on January 15.

At the Christmas party and turkey dinner following, each of the 24 children present will be given a gift by Santa Claus.

These gifts will be brought by members of the Lion's Club.

The smoker is being held in conjunction with the January membership drive. Each member is responsible for one new member who will be introduced at the smoker.

Moving pictures on counterfeit money, sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will be shown.

James MacKenzie Services Friday Narbrook Park Man Life-Long Student Of Typography

Funeral services for James Boydell MacKenzie, 55, artist and advertising man, of 24 Narbrook Park, Narberth, who died Wednesday at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, will be held Friday, at P. M., at the Oliver H. Bair Funeral Home, Philadelphia.

An elder of note, Mr. MacKenzie studied at the Art Institute of Chicago, and was the art director of Lewis & Gilman, advertising agency, since November, 1942. Mr. MacKenzie was a life long student of typography and his talents had been used by the American Type Foundry, Lanston Monotype Co., and the Merion Golf Club, Racquet Club, Fourth Street Club, and the St. Andrew's Society.

Mr. MacKenzie is survived by his wife, Mrs. Esther Reichenbach MacKenzie, two daughters, Mrs. Walter H. Boselle, and Miss Jean Pat MacKenzie; his mother, Mrs. James A. MacKenzie; three brothers, Gordon MacKenzie, Harold, and Courton; two sisters, Mrs. Wendell Brooks, and Mrs. Newell, Mrs. C. A. Jones.

Mr. MacKenzie was killed in action in the Pacific in November, 1944.

Present at the recent business meeting, when the initial plans were discussed, were Dr. Sydney V. Rowland, superintendent of schools in Radnor Township and chairman of the committee; Robert R. Abernethy, superintendent of schools in Haverford Township; Mrs. J. Claude Bedford, Mrs. J. Vernon Ellison, Mrs. William A. Jaqueite, the Rev. Albert O. Judd, the Rev. Mansfield Somerville, Mrs. Fredrickson, Mrs. Eleanor J. Wilson, Mrs. J. Barclay Jones, Emory M. Nelson, Mrs. Robert J. Patterson, Mrs. Maurice Bower Saul and Miss Ruth J. Peterson.

Widow Benefits in Will of Dr. Palmer

Dr. Harold D. Palmer, Wynnewood, named his widow, Margaret A. Palmer, and two children, Margaret Ann and Harold D., Jr., chief beneficiaries of his estate, tentatively valued at $35,000 and upward, according to his will filed for probate here.

He bequeathed his medical books, instruments and equipment to Pennsylvania Hospital; his secretary, Clara Dempsey Milner, $1,000, and a brother, John M. Palmer, and his wife, $1,000 each.

The remainder is placed in trust for the benefit of Mrs. Palmer and the children. At her death two trust funds are to be established, one for each of the children, the daughter to receive income for life, and the son to be paid in cash until he is 35, when he is to receive the principal.

Cops Left in Air (May Go Higher) As Officials Daily Over Oil Burner

This is not good news for the Haverford Township police. An oil burner inspector has sent word to the Township commissioners that the oil burner in the police station at Brookline is a fire hazard and may blow up any day. He said it is worn out and should be replaced.

Commissioners meeting in the Municipal Building at Oakmont Monday night didn't seem to be too excited about it. Because the price of a new burner ranges around $500 commissioners were undecided whether to order the burner or advertise for bids. If it is under $500 the Township Code permits them to make the purchase without taking bids.

So the commissioners directed their secretary, Harry B. Fritschman, to find out about the price. This may take about a week. Then if the secretary finds the new burner will cost more than $500 the advertising and opening of bids will take several more weeks.

In the meantime, the oil burner inspector admits, anything can happen.

Members Get Bonus

Over 200 members of the Autocar Local No. 131, UAW-CIO, were told Sunday of a $25 year-end bonus to be given them by the Autocar Company.

Each employee on the clock payroll on December 21, 1945, will receive the $25 along with their regular wages on that date.

Changes in the union by-laws were also discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the union Sunday afternoon.

Former L. M. Teacher Named Interpreter

T/Sgt. Al Della-Rezza, former Spanish teacher at Lower Merion Senior High School, has been appointed official interpreter to a Latin-American military mission soon to arrive in the United States.

Sgt. Della-Rezza, now stationed at Miami, Florida, had replaced W. Robinson Heard in the Spanish department when Heard was drafted at the beginning of the war. Subsequently Sgt. Della-Rezza was drafted.

Sgt. Della-Rezza expects to go soon to Fort Benning, Georgia, on the first leg of the mission's tour of the United States.

Faculty Advisor Is Guest Speaker

Miss Isabel Endslo, guidance advisor at Lower Merion Senior High School, was guest speaker at the Honor Society's quarterly dinner for First Honor Roll students, held at the Windsor-Essex Inn, Narberth, Tuesday night.

Miss Endslo stressed how much an appreciation of the arts adds to a full enjoyment of life.

George H. Gilbert, principal of Lower Merion, and Vincent V. Pearce, vice-principal, also spoke briefly to the 17 Honor Roll students and the 25 Honor Society members who attended.

Sgt. Della-Rezza, sponsor of the society, was in charge of the dinner. Miss Mary Lou Haldean, a senior at L. M., provided the entertainment.

Resident Protests Shooting of Pet

An Ardmore man told the Haverford Township commissioners Monday night that police picked up his pet dog and had him shot before 24 hours had elapsed.

Regulations under which stray dogs are impounded require police to keep the dog 24 hours before they are destroyed.

The complaint was made in writing to the commissioners by A. G. Russell, 2325 Darby Rd., Ardmore.

Miss Edith Hannum, Township commissioner and chairman of the police committee, said she would notify Superintendent of Police Samuel Siegel that the regulations were being ignored by his dog catchers.

Police received a call on November 21 from a resident of Woodcrest and Belmont Aves., Ardmore, to pick up a dog and have it destroyed. While calling for this dog Russell's pet appeared and they took him along.

Russell told commissioners that even though his dog had run out of the house without a license that the dog catchers could have told he was not a stray animal.

"I wish, therefore," said Russell in his letter, "to protest most vigorously against the action taken by police in shooting our dog and disposing of his body the same afternoon he was taken, for we were given no opportunity to recover him after discovering his loss."

Failure of parents to exercise patience, action, love and sympathy for their children is responsible for juvenile delinquency, Dr. Albert C. Kanizinger, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, told a group of parents and teachers Monday night.

He spoke at the Christmas party of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Chestnutwood School, Oakmont.

His topic was "Being Pals to Your Children."

"Four essential qualifications for being a pal to your child," declared Dr. Kanizinger, "are patience, action, love and sympathy."

"Such modern headaches as juvenile delinquency, increase in child murders, divorces are all attributable to the neglect of these four qualifications by their parents sometime during the early lives of these unfortunate juveniles."

Dr. Kanizinger pointed out that over 600 U. S. in one city are asking for divorces and in one of the largest cities the divorce cases have reached 50 per cent of the number of marriages in one year alone.

The men's chorus sang carols and were assisted by the Boys' Choir from St. Mary's Church, Ardmore. One of the surprises was the appearance of Lloyd Benson, as soloist. Benson is a member of the famous radio quartet, known as the Philadelphia Harmonians. Samuel Snapp, music director of the men's chorus and Mrs. James Vessey at the piano, were roundly applauded.

After the meeting refreshments were served at the school cafeteria. Ladies were treated to another surprise, being served Christmas delicacies by the men. The cafeteria was decorated by Charles N. Pappas, Jr., with a Christmas tree and lights and a turkey on every table. Christmas music was furnished by the school recording machine.

Mrs. Johnson, a former teacher, was presented with a gift.

To Start Drive

The Lower Merion Clothing Collection Committee, in co-operation with the United National Clothing Collection, will hold a meeting on Monday, December 17, at 8 P. M., in the Township Building.

The second drive for the benefit of the people in war torn countries will be held from January 7 to January 31.

Says Heavy Quarry Charge Rattled Home, Injured Woman

A complaint that a heavy blasting charge at the Di Francesco Quarry, Township Line Rd., Lanserch, shook the home of Carl Morash, Richard Ave., and injured his wife, was made to Haverford Township commissioners Monday night.

This complaint was one of three against the quarry by Percy Piers, president of the Richland Farms Civic Association.

Piers said a heavy plate glass mirror was knocked off the wall and cut Mrs. Morash on the hand and foot.

Piers told them that Mrs. Morash was still in a "highly nervous condition" and under the doctor's care.

The two other complaints made by Piers for the civic association were that stagnant water near the Di Francesco Quarry was a health menace and, also, that Di Francesco's trucks were being routed through a residential area.

Oliver T. Higgins, Penfield commissioner, proposed that a policeman be stationed at the quarry to see that blasts were within the legal limit. Commissioners then referred the proposal to Superintendent of Police Samuel Siegel.

Two investigations of the blast that was supposed to have shaken Morash's house have already been made.

On Dec. 4 the police went to Morash's home and measured the force of a blast at the quarry with instruments. Sergeant of Police T. Johnson reported:

"The blast went off at 2 P. M. and I could hardly hear it and did not feel any tremor and it did not disturb the test instrument in any way."

Council Asked to Appropriate Money For New Apparatus

Chief McNulty Says Ladders Are Broken and Twisted; Seagraves, Costing $20,500, Is Being Considered; Flier Presides

Narberth's old fire truck is as much of a hazard to volunteer firemen as the fires they fight, the Narberth Borough Council was told Monday night.

The Council was asked by the Narberth Fire Company to make an appropriation toward the purchase of a new apparatus.

William Durbin, president of the fire company, and Albert J. Nulty, fire chief, explained the condition of the old truck.

Declared the chief:

"The old truck is quickly becoming as much a hazard as the fires it is badly rattled."

The chief added that besides the old-fashioned, two wheeled brakes the truck was hard to start.

The fact that two of the ladders are broken and one ladder badly twisted out of shape," he said, "doesn't help the ladder crews in their first fighting efforts."

The company's president told the firemen, "it stumbles on it way."

Officials of the fire company would like to purchase a Seagraves ladder truck for $20,500. Specifications are being prepared and bids will be asked for later.

Financing the new truck, however, may prove to be a rather involved affair. The company has in its treasury for the purchase of new equipment, only $7,000. An additional borough appropriation of $6,000 and $1,000 from the sale of the old truck will leave the company approximately $6,500 short.

With the addition of the new truck, the front of the Borough hall would have to be extended. This added expense would not exceed $4,000, members of the company told councilmen.

Council president, Roland J. Flier, stated that the matter of financing the truck would be discussed at a later date by members of the finance committee of the Council.

Delivery of the truck can not be made until the Fall of 1946 by the Seagraves Company.

The meeting, the first for Sterling M. Chain, newly appointed councilman, was the last for Roland J. Flier, Council president, for the last five years. The new president will be elected at the organization meeting to be held January 7.

Methodist Women In Christmas Fete

Donald White, AAF Veteran, Gave Piano Selections; Serve Tea

The Woman's Society of the Narberth Methodist Church held its Christmas program last Thursday afternoon in the church parlors with the president, Mrs. Samuel M. Russell, presiding.

Included in the reports given by various members of the executive board, was one given by Mrs. George Lees, secretary of the Student Work group. Mrs. Lees reported that her group had sent off Christmas presents to all service men and women of the church.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Charles Edwards, after which Donald White, a former lieutenant in the Army Air Forces, played two selections on the piano.

Mrs. R. G. Bennett, a member of the Literature group of the Narberth Woman's Community Club, told the story of "Little Lousie's Christmas."

Program booklets for 1946 were distributed to the group by Mrs. Carl Hammerly. The booklets were made up by Circle No. 6.

All members had brought with them to the meeting wrapped Christmas gifts for children. These were wrapped into special packages and sent off to children's schools the next day.

At the conclusion of the meeting, tea was served by members of Circle No. 4.

It was announced that Circle No. 4 will hold Christmas party next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Frank Stiefel, 305 Woodside Ave.

Dr. A. J. Denman Reappointed to Board

A motion for the reappointment of Dr. A. J. Denman to the Narberth Board of Health was made by Robert M. Cameron, chairman of the Water, Light, and Health Committee of the Borough Council, at the meeting of the group held Monday night.

Denman will serve for a five-year term, starting January 6, 1946.

Cameron also reported only six garbage complaints during November.

Funeral Services Held For Dr. Kelly

Veterinarian Executive in Phila. Dairy Company

Funeral services for Dr. Thomas Kelly, for 20 years manager of the wholesale and production division of the Scott-Powell Dairies, who died December 4, were held on December 8 at 2 P. M. from his late home, 110 Llandaff Rd., Llanerch. Interment was in Mt. Moriah Cemetery.

A veterinarian, Dr. Kelly was executive director of the Convention Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trades in Philadelphia, and was a member of the Lions Club, Business Club, Shrine Club, 100 Club, International Stewards and Caterers Association, the Philadelphia Safety Council, the South Jersey Milk Dealers Association, Philadelphia Dairy Council, and the Pennsylvania Public Health Association.

A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania in 1906, Dr. Kelly took post graduate work at Cornell University. He began his service with the dairy company in 1920.

Dr. Kelly is survived by his wife, Anna Maria, two daughters, Mrs. Anna Clark, of New York City, and Mrs. L. Elizabeth P. Kelly, of USANC, stationed at Lawson General Hospital, Atlanta, Ga., and a son, Captain William T., now with the Army in Germany.

PARTY PLAID

PLEASEING both mothers and daughters has been the particular task of New York designers of teen-age clothes. The smart plaid taffeta dress shown, neither too babyish nor too sophisticated for the young junior, is typical of the dressy dresses fashioned specially for her requirements.

Crisp little wing sleeves trimmed interestingly with lattice edging made of the taffeta have a widening effect on narrow shoulders. Extra fullness in the skirt in the center front gives the dress plenty of pretty swish. Finally, there's a touch of young black in a satin bow for the neck and a patent belt for the waist.

of the house and to the cellar where damage had been done as per Mrs. Morash. I did find a large mirror had been held on a panel back of a bar and was held there by a small strip of moulding 12 inches long at bottom and two small screws at top. This had fallen, breaking on the floor. Also had knocked off a shelf at bottom of mirror, one Haig and Haig bottle and a heavy Bostanoby 'Ford' (broken) fruit basket ornament which was still laying on the floor.

On December 5, Superintendent of Police Siegel talked to Joseph Di Francesco about the damage in the Morash home.

The superintendent said: "Di Francesco stated that his insurance company was in doubt about their blasting causing this accident, and does not want to assume any responsibility, but Di Francesco stated that the firm would rather pay a claim than to have any hard feelings in the neighborhood."

In conclusion the police superintendent said:

"As you know, we have had on several occasions, township inspectors and also the state inspectors make periodical inspections of the blasting in this quarry and it is my opinion that we will continue to receive complaints about this blasting until this entire question is decided by the courts."

In his letter to the commissioners, Pierce pointed out that "Di Francesco is supposed to set off blasts at only certain periods and in certain amounts, but in the past few weeks the blasts have been of greater amounts and frequency."

Study Plan To Ease Parking And Traffic In Shopping Districts

Merchants Asked To Help Defray Cost In One Scheme

Township Weights All Proposals

Preparatory to writing a 1946 budget Lower Merion Township commissioners are considering three plans of financing a program to relieve traffic congestion and parking conditions in the Township's business district.

With expenditures mounting in all municipal departments it is doubtful if any one of the plans can be put to work without a tax increase.

Commissioners have about a month to whip their financing program in shape before the Township's tentative budget is announced in January. By that time the outline of improvements they intend to make in 1946 will be virtually fixed.

Plans under consideration would relieve traffic and parking in Ardmore, Bryn Mawr, and Bala-Cynwyd.

The Main Line Board of Realtors, Bryn Mawr Business Association, Main Line Chamber of Commerce and the newly organized Ardmore Merchants Association all have submitted proposals either in writing or verbally to the Lower Merion commissioners.

Three financing plans being discussed by commissioners are:

1. Appropriation of most of the amount needed by the Township to cover cost of general program that would facilitate parking and traffic in the shopping centers of Bryn Mawr, Ardmore and Bala-Cynwyd. This would throw the entire burden of financing on the Township and probably result in a substantial tax increase.

2. Appropriation of money by Township coupled with a plan for self-liquidating projects such as parking meters and a small charge for off-street parking on lots acquired by the Township. Cost of road widening, bridge building, underpass approaches, etc. would still have to be borne by the Township.

3. A combination financing program whereby merchants would share part of the cost as it has been assumed in the development of Suburban Square in North Ardmore. The use of self-liquidating parking projects and a limited appropriation from the Township government.

The third financing plan is receiving serious consideration from township officials.

Considerable study has been given to parking and traffic by committees of the Main Line Chamber of Commerce and the Line Board of Realtors. Recently, these committees, acting jointly, passed along their written proposals to the commissioners. The Township, independent of these proposals have been studying parking problems of the major business districts for years. Their master plan for solving these problems was prepared by Henry D. Harral, who was secretary and engineer for the Lower Merion Planning Commission. A non-government group, known as the Lower Merion Parking Commission, made some extensive studies of conditions in Bryn Mawr, Ardmore before the war. This organization advocated the installation of parking meters.

Proposals of all interested individuals and organizations are now in the Township's ordinance hopper and are being studied and analyzed by administrative heads, township engineers and commissioners. When these are digested public hearings will be held.

Projects under consideration include the widening and improvement of roads and streets wherever possible in the business districts, widening of bridge approaches and underpasses wherever possible; acquisition of lots for public parking; installation of parking meters; rerouting of heavy through traffic wherever possible and more police regulation of traffic.

Pennsylvania State department, Montgomery County's government and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company enter into many of the plans being considered. Both the State and County are maintaining roads that pass through Lower Merion. Cooperation of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and permission of the State Public Utility would have to be obtained to widen railroad bridges and underpasses.

The following proposals to alleviate traffic and parking conditions in Lower Merion's business sections are being considered by Lower Merion Township commissioners. The proposals have been submitted from time to time by local organizations or individuals; many of them have been in the planning files of the Township for a number of years.

Ardmore

Open a driveway or street in the rear of stores on the North side of Lancaster Ave. in Ardmore extending from the projected extension of Ardmore Ave., through the Autocar property, to Anderson Ave.

Widen Anderson Ave. from Lancaster Ave. to Montgomery Ave., including the underpass of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. Do away with Station Rd. as a thoroughfare and convert it into parking space thus prevent traffic congestion at its intersection with Anderson Ave.

Widen and straighten out Cricket Terrace from Cricket Ave. to Rittenhouse Place.

Acquire public parking lots as near the central shopping area of Ardmore as possible.

Continue campaign to have State reroute through traffic off of Lancaster Ave.

Extend Ardmore Ave. from

Lancaster Ave. through Autocar property and then underpass to Montgomery Ave.

Widen Spring Ave. and thus relieve some of the traffic that now goes over Lancaster Ave.

Widen Church Rd. railroad bridge and approaches.

Bryn Mawr

Widen Roberts Rd. from Lancaster Ave. to Montgomery Ave.

Widen Merion Ave. from Old Lancaster Rd. to Montgomery Ave. and straighten out part of avenue over the bridge.

Widen Bryn Mawr Ave. from Lancaster Ave. to Haverford Rd. Extend Morton Rd. to intersect with Bryn Mawr and Merion Aves.

Extend Summit Grove Ave. to intersect with Merion Ave.

Acquire public parking lots wherever possible.

Use Bryn Mawr playground near Pennsylvania Railroad Station for a parking lot.

Build twin underpass, using the present Bryn Mawr Ave. underpass for East bound traffic.

Bala-Cynwyd

Widen Bala Ave. between Montgomery and Highland Aves.

Widen Levering Mill Rd. North from Montgomery to Bentley Ave.

Acquire public parking lots wherever possible near business centers of Bala and Cynwyd.

To Address Rotary

George W. R. Kirkpatrick, principal of the Bala-Cynwyd Junior High School, will speak on "A Youth Program" at next Thursday's meeting of the Ardmore Rotary Club.

Also at the meeting plans will be discussed for the club's Christmas party to be held at Haverford Court on December 27. Arrangements will also be made for the annual Christmas party at the Knox Home on December 20.

First helicopter to be used in scientific collaboration with army country was recently used to observe action of Particulin volcano in Mexico.

Optimists Met Tuesday Afternoon; Weidman Presided

Walter E. L. Irwin, general manager of the Main Line Branch of the Philadelphia Electric Company, guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Ardmore Optimist Club Tuesday afternoon in the Llanerch Country Club, spoke on "The Push Button We Live in Today." He told of how years ago people dreamed of the magic carpet saying that many of the things predicted by the writer, Jules Verne, are far surpassed at the present time.

The speaker told of how the Revolution was started by the Signal Corps of the Revolutionary Army. Paul Revere getting his signal from a lamp held in the tower as compared to the end of the present war when the military forces were using more than 50,000 radar sets. In Paul Revere's time you could only signal as far as one could be seen, but the radar service permits signalling beyond sight and sound, he added.

The new aids for industry and home all depend on electricity, the speaker stated, and added that the Philadelphia Electric Company not only supplies electricity but also gas will almost every person in the Philadelphia Area as a customer. Mr. Irwin said what they really sell is energy, adding that electricity is something you can't create and you can't destroy. It is obtained by converting the source of energy from one source to the other. The only way to sell electricity is on the cafeteria style, to take what they want when they want it.

He told of the two sources of obtaining current in this area, one through the steam generation plants and the other the Conowingo Hydro Electric Plant. He also described various pieces of equipment used on the lines and mentioned that electricity is something that has tremendous energy and you should always take precaution when using electrical appliances and equipment.

The speaker was introduced by Oscar B. Weidman, who presided.

The Federal Reserve System was inaugurated in 1914.

Welfare Work of County Described

Council of Auxiliaries Held Meeting on December 5

Mrs. J. Howard McKay, of Springfield, Eastern vice president of the American Legion Auxiliary Department of Pennsylvania, and Mrs. A. Bruce Deniston of Greenville, Pa., State chairman of rehabilitation, were guest speakers at the meeting of the Delaware County Council of the American Legion Auxiliary held last Wednesday in Chester with members of the Szymanski-Rywacki Unit 546 as hostesses.

Mrs. McKay spoke of the welfare work of the Auxiliary carried out by more than 600,000 women in over 9,000 units throughout the world including Hawaii, Canada, France, Puerto Rico, Cuba and the Dutch West Indies, also stating that the National Organization spends more than $1,000,000 on rehabilitation of disabled veterans during the past year.

Christmas plans were outlined for the hospitalized servicemen and veterans in hospitals in Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland and North Carolina by Mrs. Deniston, who stated that every hospitalized veteran, a resident of Pennsylvania, would receive a Christmas gift.

Other guests presented by Mrs. Edward Jackson, president of the Council, were Mrs. Harrison Smith of Wayne, a past State president and member of the National committee on National Defense who spoke on the Universal Military Training bill; Mrs. James Desmond, State chairman of Child Welfare; Mrs. Paul B. Dague, Coatesville Hospital chairman; Mrs. John J. Kelly, Naval Hospital chairman; Mrs. John Kiloran, department sub-chairman of rehabilitation; and Mrs. Raymond Heald, district director.

Mrs. Jackson was elected a delegate to the National Defense Conference to be held in Washington, D. C., January 5, 6 and 7 and it was announced that the Area Conference on Child Welfare and Rehabilitation would be held in Baltimore, January 7, 8 and 9.

Contributions were made to the Christmas party of the Child Health Center of Chester, the State scholarship fund, Junior baseball and Point Hospital. Several hundred dollars were contributed by the individual units to the Christmas work at Coatesville Hospital, Aspinwall Hospital, Naval Hospital, Swarthmore Naval Annex, South Mountain in Pennsylvania, Perry Point Hospital, Md. Bath and Canadaigua Hospitals in New York and the Scotland Soldiers Orphans Home, Chambersburg.

Department citations were presented to the following units for outstanding work during the past year: Chester 300, Springfield Collingsdale, Wayne 418, Upper Darby, Numan-Slook, Glenolden, Manoa, Lansdowne and East Lansdowne. Chester Unit 190 received the director's award for the first unit to have enrolled their entire membership to date.

Appointed Chairman

Mrs. Arthur P. Baugh, Jr., chairman of the Main Line Branch of the Red Cross announced the appointment of Walter E. L. Irwin of the Philadelphia Electric Company as chairman of the Disaster Relief Committee to succeed William J. Lloyd, President of the Ardmore Branch of the Pennsylvania Company. Lloyd will continue as a member of the Board of Directors.

Irwin is vice-chairman of the Main Line Branch and a member of the Executive Committee and is familiar with Disaster Relief activities.

NARBERTH SCHOOL NEWS

Christmas Production Underway

On December 19, at 8:15 P. M., the Narberth School will present the Christmas play, entitled "Good King Wenceslaus," by Cloyd Head. The cast has been chosen from the eighth grade and will be directed by various upper grade teachers, with Mr. Drennen in charge of the general production.

Miss Mabel Fritsch is the dramatic coach, with a cost of 24. The characters are: King Wenceslaus, Dick Squier; Anne, his queen, Katherine Blum; the Councillor of State, Jim Chios; the King's Officer, Walter Byrd; the King's Jester, Deedee Patien; the Master of Ceremonies, Carol Lee Rollins; the Queen's Lady-in-Waiting, Diane Klingaman; Jan, a Page, James Drenner; a Poor Man, Tom Lillis; the Sentry, Harry Scott; the Angels, Evelyn Cain and Betty Jane Merkle; the Props, Nancy Hawley and Amy Stewart; the Voices, Bob Snyder and Phelix Brandimarti; the organ accompanist, Mary Trippian; the Dancer, Barbara Ely; the Singers, The School Chorus; The Carrolers, Jean Dickie, Priscilla Stevenson, Mary Wurster, Dick Bailey, Phelix Brandimarti, and Bob Snyder.

Miss Frances Fricke is in charge of music. A chorus of about 60 voices provides the background by singing "Angels We Have Heard On High," a Westminster carol, "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel," a French carol, arranged by Mary Strong, "Silent Night," by Franz Gruber. The carollers sing "God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen," an English carol and "Let Our Gladness Know No End," from the Bohemian.

The scenery was painted by pupils of the sixth, seventh, and eighth grade art classes, under Miss Margaret Gassner. They consist of five screens: one decorative screen, reversible to the Poor Man's hut, two lower stage snow scenes, and one snow scene for over the throne in the out-of-focus section. Back drops of medieval tapestries were also painted by the pupils.

Miss Agnes Taylor is doing the costume work, with Miss Margaret White and Ernestine Brandimarti, who are in charge of general properties.

Mr. Clyde Civitts oversees the lighting with the help of Miss Gassner, John Sargent and Skipper Thaw. Mr. C. S. Harkness directs a group of eighth grade girls in the ushering.

Miss Nellie Fratantoni and Miss Mabel Hunsicker are in charge of compiling and printing of programs and Mr. R. L. Lehman has the publicity in the school paper, The Sun Dial.

The Assembly on Friday, December 7, was a Victory celebration, commemorating the completion of a Bond and Stamp drive. The School started in September to sell enough to sponsor two Hospital Units at $3,000 each by Pearl Harbor Day. The sale exceeded the goal, $8,101.30 being the total sales.

The devotions were led by Phyllis Smith, Barbara Fischer, President of the Junior Red Cross Council, announced the program and introduced the speakers. Diane Klingaman made a report of the Junior Red Cross work to date.

Combined Choirs To Sing Messiah

Sr. High Ensemble To Play Christmas Carols

The combined choirs of the Second Baptist Church of Germantown and the Nativity Lutheran Church of Philadelphia will sing Handel's Messiah Sunday at 4 P. M. at the Second Baptist Church of Germantown, Germantown Ave. and Upsal Street. They will be accompanied by the Haverford Township Senior High School orchestra.

Preceding the rendition of the Messiah, the Haverford Township High School brass ensemble will play Christmas carols.

The brass ensemble will also play before the service at the Nativity Lutheran Church, 17th and Tioga Sts., Philadelphia, at 7:30 P. M.

On Sunday, December 23, the brass ensemble will play carols preceding the afternoon service at the Second Presbyterian Church, 21st and Walnut Sts., Philadelphia.

On December 24 the ensemble will accompany the singing of the employees of the Gulf Oil Corporation, 1515 Locust Street, at their offices. Later in the afternoon they will be the guests at the annual Christmas party of the Gulf employees. The party will be held at the Manufacturers Club.

Sell Christmas Trees

Fellowship Lodge 1071 L.O.O.F. of Bon Air will sell Christmas Trees starting December 17 and continuing through the week at the following locations: Manoa Road and West Chester Pike and at the Westgate Hills trolley station.

A turkey dinner for the Lodge members and their families and friends will be held in Bethesda Chapel on January 8.

John L. Lancaster, Publisher, Dies

Survived by Wife, Niece of Magistrate Kromer of Cynwyd

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 for John L. Lancaster, 38, who died at the Haverford Hospital Tuesday evening after a long illness.

The viewing will be held at the Oliver Bair Funeral Home Friday evening. He will be buried in the Fernwood Cemetery.

For the past six years Lancaster has been editing and publishing the Talk of the Town, a Westgate Hills publication which he started himself. Before that he was associated with various clothing concerns including the D'Alonzo Lancaster Co. For many years he had his own clothing store in the Ritz Carlton.

He is survived by his wife, Beatrice Kromer Lancaster, 33-B Hampden Rd., Upper Darby; Mrs. Lancaster is the niece of Magistrate Franklin P. Kromer, 303 Tregaron Rd., Cynwyd.

Villanova to Play Merchant Marines

Wildcats in Action At Main Line Gymnasium

Still juggling his lineup like a master magician, Al Severance almost daily is switching his Villanova College basketball team in a desperate attempt to find a winning combination.

Villanova will play U. S. Merchant Marine Academy at the Main Line Field House Friday night, after playing host to Fordham's colorful club Wednesday.

The Wildcat courtmen suffered their second successive defeat Saturday at Lewisburg, bowing to Bucknell despite Ed Reybitz' 13 points. In previous engagements, Villanova upset Georgetown in its opener, 40-37, then appeared unimpressive while losing to Princeton University here, 47-40.

Renew Efforts to Acquire Land For Playground in Third Ward

Negotiations will be opened with the new owners of Paddock Farm — the Warner-West Company — to obtain part of the tract for use as a playground in the Third Ward of Haverford Township.

Township commissioners at a meeting in the Municipal Building at Oakmont Monday night told C. Edward Land, chairman of the Township's recreation committee, to reopen the proposal with the present owners.

To carry out their suggestion Land met Tuesday morning with Jonathan M. Steere and H. Gates Lloyd, members of the Haverford Park Board.

Petitioners Claim They Would Not Take in More Than 100 Pupils; Club Reports Complaints of Speeding on Highland Ave.

Application of the Fairchild School to conduct a nursery and kindergarten in Cynwyd was opposed Thursday night by the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club and 30 protesting residents, at a zoning hearing in the Lower Merion Township Building, Ardmore.

The school, represented by Paul Brandeis, Philadelphia attorney, applied to the Board of Adjustment to open its school on a triangular piece of land it intends to buy at Conshohocken State Rd. and Bala Ave. The property, at 301 Bala Ave., is in an R-3 residence zone and an exception would have to be granted before the school is opened.

The petition was circulated among adjoining property owners by Albert Lee, of Conshohocken State Rd.

In the petition for a special zoning exception, the school said its enrollment would be limited to 100 pupils.

Calls School Commercial
The Neighborhood Club's solicitor declared:

"First of all, that section of Cynwyd is essentially a residential district and it has been for years. The kindergarten is being brought into the neighborhood by outside interests purely for commercial purposes.

"There has been no demand for such a school on the part of Lower Merion residents. We provide adequate school facilities for our children."

Fear Property Depreciation
Attorney Montgomery pointed out that a school of this type would depreciate property values.

"When our residents moved to Bala-Cynwyd," he declared, "they did so with the expectation that the suburban atmosphere would not change."

J. Baratt Comer, president, presided at the Neighborhood Club directors' meeting Tuesday night.

Complaints about excessive speeding on Highland Ave. were reported at the meeting. It is understood Lower Merion police are checking the motor traffic on the avenue and will send a report to the Neighborhood Club.

THE PLAYBILL

By T. M. BAXTER

We have been having a rather gala theatrical season in Philadelphia, more than the usual number of productions have been unveiled in our town, prior to their New York showings. Some have been very good, others almost unbelievably bad.

There was one called "The Girl from Nantucket," which, even at this writing, has kicked the bucket. This show featured James Barton, one of the most versatile comedians of the stage. Barton has routines enough in his repertoire to go on for two days without repeating himself, but in this case, he was given straight lines to read which allowed him little or no opportunity to exercise his talents.

"Spring in Brazil" was also just such a one. Here we had Milton Berle, if you like Milton Berle, which I don't, but even so, here was the case of another knock-out comic being given a straight part. The latest report from this $300,000 investment is that it is folding on the road and may never see New York.

When shows of this type are offered for the inspection of the New York critics, the producers set up squawks of anguish and yell that the reviewers are taking the bread out of their mouths, and just look at all the effort and expense they went to, only to have the whole thing ruined by a few adverse criticisms. The critics who have to suffer through these things simply wonder how some of the trash they are asked to pass judgment on ever came to be produced.

Times are so lush with show business these days, the chances are that if the young ladies, say of "The Miss Mervins School," were to hire a hall and put on an all-girl production of the late Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree's starring vehicle, "My Friend from India," it would, no doubt, do capacity business for a good long run.

In truth the old adage, that it is always a poor season for poor plays, seems to have been proved wrong, as even the most terrible "turkeys" are packing them in, so it would appear to be quite a feat to be able to produce a flop. It can be done, though.

Observe the author, director, and producers selecting the cast. They are reading actors for a "tennis racket" part — i. e. — young juvenile who bounces in and out from the garden, hand in hand with the ingenue. The first actor who reads is perfect but the author would rather have someone better known. The next is a little too tall; the next a trifle too short; the next is just the type, but the director is trying to get a Hollywood star to take the part. They finally wind up with someone about forty years old, speaking with a heavy foreign accent which has to be explained by putting in all sorts of business about young "Hilary" being educated abroad.

We see by the Sunday papers that four new plays are scheduled to open in the next few weeks in Philadelphia. All four seem to have two strikes on them to start with as they appear to be as unappetizingly miscast as either the "Girl from Nantucket" or "Spring in Brazil."

These offerings are Bobby Clark in "The Would-be Gentleman," Mary Martin in "Lute Song," Bert Wheeler in "Of All People," and the Theatre Guild's presentation of "The Winter's Tale."

Now what'd'ya say we try something new and review these plays before they open (Note: This is being written before the opening of the Clark show.)

First, let's consider Bobby Clark in a new comedy, "The Would-be Gentleman." This hilarious comic happens to be a particular weakness of your self-appointed critic, Robert, the Rouse from Reading, Pa., has only to step on the stage with his cigar, cane, and painted-on specs and he has this scribe rolling in the aisles. Bobby Clark is an artist with great humor in him and one who does not just serve as a medium for the jokes of gag writers, as do many of the so-called comedians inflicted on us of late years. Nevertheless, it's difficult to encourage Bobby Clark circumscribed within the limits of a straight role in a Seventeenth Century French Comedy. While Bobby will always enliven any proceedings, we must remember that this same actor has essayed the "bigger — finer" once before as "Bob Acres" in Sheridan's "The Rivals" with indifferent results.

Next we have Mary Martin in "Lute Song." This star first came to fame singing, "My Heart Belongs to Daddy." "Lute Song" is called a romantic, musical play, adapted from China's most famous play, "The Shanghai Gesture." Whether this should prove exactly the forte of the brilliant star of "One Touch of Venus" is anybody's guess — "could be!"

Now we come to Bert Wheeler in a new comedy, "Of All People." Here we have still another example of a very talented musical comedy and vaudeville performer with his own individual style being called on to pay a straight part. Frankly, it doesn't sound promising.

Finally, we arrive at "The Winter's Tale" with a cast of people to brighten any playgoer's heart: Florence Reed, the unforgettable Mother Goddard of "The Shanghai Gesture," Jessie Royce Landis, who you might remember a few seasons back as the upstate Dutch wife in "Papa is All," Henry Daniell, you've seen him so often in the movies he must be like one of the family, Romney Brent, Philip Huston, both fine actors, and others.

The Theatre Guild should know what they are doing, they produced "Oklahoma" but why a Shakespearean comedy? Even the very warmest adherents of the Bard (among which group your reviewer is, by no means, the most luke) seem to lean to the opinion that Shakespeare was not at his best in comedy. Our guess on this one is that the critics will be much more enthusiastic than the paying public.

Naturally, all these surmises could be wrong. We hope they are.

Volunteers Workers Campaign to Raise $90,000 to Finance Anti-Tuberculosis Fight in Montgomery and Delaware Cos.

Tuberculosis, one of the world's most dread diseases, is being fought on a state-wide front by an organization of civilian workers under the supervision of local community tuberculosis and health associations.

In Montgomery County, Frank C. Royer of School Lane, Ardmore, is chairman of the Main Line Seal Sale and Alexander Walton of Righter's Ferry Rd., Cynwyd, is head of the Bala-Cynwyd branch.

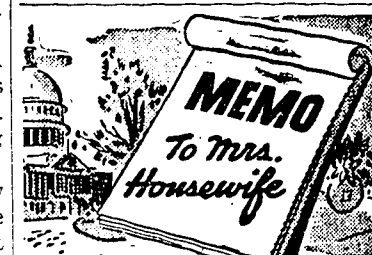

Delaware County's Haverford Township has Mrs. James F. Pfeiffer of Kathmere Rd., Brookline and Mrs. E. W. Hinsdale of Manor Rd., Brookline Gardens, in charge of the selling of bonds and seals for the tuberculosis drive.

Over $90,000 must be collected by volunteer workers in two townships so that the state may continue its work of free chest X-rays for school children, industrial workers and members of the community.

Urge New Law For Granting Leaves

One of the 1946 legislative objectives of the American Legion will be a new law granting the enlisted personnel of all branches of the various military and naval services accumulated leave on the same basis as is now permitted to commissioned officers.

Proposing payment of such accumulation at the rate of the enlisted personnel's regular pay and allowances, the Legion bill will also provide that it be retroactive to include leave accumulated after the passage of the Selective Service Act of September 16, 1940.

1945 CHRISTMAS SEAL COMES TO LIFE. Jervas Jefferis, Jr. Jerry to his friends — sets out to buy some Christmas seals to help the Delaware County Tuberculosis and Health Association raise an additional $15,000. The extra found will be used to buy a mobile X-ray unit for the mass chest X-ray surveys being conducted throughout the county as part of the association's tuberculosis control program. Jerry is three-and-a-half and lives with his father and mother at 19 Chuwch St., Upland.

Woman Injured In Bryn Mawr Crash

Bryn Mawr Ave., and Sprout Rd. in Bryn Mawr was the scene of an automobile crash on Sunday afternoon.

Glenn S. Walrath of 1449 Locust St., Norristown, was struck by the car of Allan W. Graves of 367 W. Lancaster Ave., Matherford.

Graves crashed into the Walrath car, which had stopped for the stop sign at the intersection. The passenger of the Walrath car, Miss Catherine Talanco of 1247 Crosby St., Chester, was treated at Bryn Mawr hospital for lacerations of the head and face.

About $200 worth of damage was done to both cars and Graves will have to appear at the Radnor Police Court on charges of assault and battery by automobile.

War Job Ended? Out of Work? See Bell Co., Urges Official

Jobs are scarce since the "war-boom" ended abruptly with the collapse of Japan.

And wartime replacements—men and women who took over jobs vacated by those who went into service—are being replaced by returning veterans.

But a check-up this week disclosed at least one source of employment in Ardmore which should be good news to a lot of people.

Herbert J. Bruder, district manager of the Bell Telephone Company, reported that there are at least 35 openings for operators in the telephone company right now. Telephone service is being increased for Ardmore and vicinity every day. During 1946, at least 90 positions in the clerical and traffic departments will be available for girls without experience or a full high school education. Actually, there are over 45,000 business calls made each day in Ardmore.

The Bell Telephone Company is willing to train people and give them a profession. Girls who do operational work can eventually go into long distance and later overseas work.

The opportunities, said Bruder, are endless, and the jobs carry with them security that means a full pay envelope 52 weeks a year.

Vacations with pay, sick and accident benefits and a recently increased wage scale are other advantages.

Bruder cited the case of a girl who went to Bell seven years ago in the lowest of clerical positions—she is now a supervisor of an entire department, a lifetime member of the Bell organization. Bruder suggested that interested persons call at 45 Anderson Ave., Ardmore, before Christmas.

Little Things*about*THE*STARS

By GEORGE LILLEY • MASTER EMCEE

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Natty dressing Donald Voorhees is probably the least temperamental of the orchestra conductors. He maestros NBC's "Telephone Hour" (Monday nights) which, over the last five years, has highlighted more big name musical guests than any show in radio (Kreisel, Hoitzel, Pons). On the adage "the bigger they are, the easier they are to work," Voorhees with "Voorhees" is sold; it applies particularly to entertainers. The conductor, 42, Pennsylvania Dutch (Allentown, Pa.) got an interesting start. At 17, he was rushed to New York to handle the opening of a musical, "Broadway Brevities," starring Eddie Cantor. A relative of the producer, originally scheduled to conduct, had bungled the show. Since, Voorhees has been in the business.

PEEPING STAR

Harry Prime: Twenty-five-year-old singer. A number of people in the trade think he will be one of the next top-money crooners. Prime, good looking ex-Philadelphia postal clerk, recently signed a recording contract, is scheduled for a New York nightclub run and an afternoon radio program—the formulated ladder to crooning success. Like Sinatra and Perry Como, he has another early asset—lack of money—which, for an astute manager, leaves crooners unaffected, enthusiastic and easy to handle. A cross between stylist Sinatra and solid voiced Dick Haymes, to Prime croon-builder "Tommy Dorsey gives an encouraging, if at the moment impractical, recommendation: "You're too good to hire as a band singer."

Shopping Hangover

SHOPPING is many a woman's pet pastime—windows for fun, over the counter for keeps—but it's exhausting and bargains aren't always easy to find.

Except electricity! Lady, you don't have to stir one step outside your home to get a whopping big bargain in comfort and convenience—at low pre-war prices.

Electric service is always right at your fingertip—plentiful, dependable, ready 24 hours a day to lighten your household burdens and make your way of living more pleasant.

And it's cheap! As a matter of fact, the average family is getting just about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago.

Yes, electric service is a rare household bargain. But not by accident. It's the result of the hard work and experience of the men and women in your company.

NEW CAMERAS ARE STILL "AROUND THE CORNER"

Now that peace has come to industry and reconversion is in full swing, we are deluged with questions about what new cameras will be available to civilians—and how soon. Unfortunately the situation is not so rosy as you may have been led to believe.

With the slashing of many (but not all) military requirements, it is certain that supplies of film, developer, darkroom equipment and other equipment that is manufactured quickly and in large quantities will become plentiful during the next two or three months.

A few camera manufacturers have been able to swing instantly into civilian production of old models with a minimum of reconversion. Some will continue for an indefinite time to devote a large portion of their facilities to military and government needs. Graflex is one of these latter. Others have not been making cameras during the war and will have extensive

RAILROADING IS

People

Nothing in this world is as interesting as—people! Nothing is as important as people... people who live and grow, love and get married... people with their habits and manners, their likes and dislikes. Nothing really matters but—people.

The city? We think of it as people. The countryside is people. And so is the railroad... just folks—all of them!

Locomotives, cars, equipment... all these have been thought out, designed, engineered, developed and built by people for people. They are of value only as they serve people.

We of the Pennsylvania Railroad try to keep in mind always: everything we do is measured by how we help people, how we get along with people, how we treat people. Our greatest reward is in having people think well of us... because we have served them well!

Official inspection makes certain YOUR car is safe to drive—that it has no mechanical defects that will cause it to break down just when you need it most. New cars are a long way off.

Have your car inspected today.

Cars must be inspected by January 31, 1946.

There will be no extension of this period.

You will not be allowed to drive after this date unless you have an official inspection sticker.

Through the War Years—and Now in Peace—Car Inspection is a Must to Save Cars... to Save Lives. Stick by Your Sticker!

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

SPORTS SCENE

By L. M. FORD
Ollie (Ollie) Robinson is a quiet, unassuming and likeable young man who will be stepping into basketball's biggest brogans when Lower Merion High opens its season Friday night at Ardmore.

For Ollie, who previously coached at Berwyn and Chester High, has replaced Bill Anderson as Maroon mentor. Whether he'll ever replace William Hunter Anderson in the hearts of L. M. adherents remains to be seen.

Lower Merion basketball fans are by nature and upbringing a most discerning group. They've been fed on a victory diet for so many seasons that they can't countenance a losing team, at least on the basketball court.

Perhaps Anderson spoiled followers of the Maroon team. Certainly they became accustomed to an almost monotonous succession of conquests and Lower Merion's name became a basketball byword throughout the land under Anderson's aegis.

With Dandy Andy at the helm, Lower Merion rolled to four Pennsylvania State titles—three straight from 1941 through 1943. In 1944, the team won the Pennsylvania championship in the annual star-spangled PIAA tournament.

Lower Merion took the District One Suburban championship last season so regularly that it became a foregone conclusion, and the Section One scramble ultimately developed into a race for runner-up honors, with the Merionites almost automatically relegated to the driver's seat.

In his 18 years as Lower Merion mentor, Andy's teams triumphed in 343 games, lost only 55 for an incredible .863 average. In 12 State tournaments, Lower Merion won 59 games and dropped eight under his expert guidance.

That problem was an unhealthy condition. Most Suburban Conference coaches, although readily paying tribute to Anderson's coaching genius, are now jettisoning their sights on league titles and playoff positions, with little more than a passing nod to Lower Merion.

All of which means Ollie is on the spot. There's no doubt that Robinson is well versed in the game. He starred at Washington College, later played brilliantly in independent ranks for the Main Line League Brookline team, Hope Presbyterian Church and Chester Wolves.

Adding to Ollie's difficulties is an acute shortage of experienced performers. Buzz Wetherald is the only returnee from the 1944-45 squad. Anderson's last before he became Westgate College coach and athletic director.

Some relief, however, may be forthcoming from Bala-Cynwyd Junior High. Bala boasted an undefeated last season, with a sprinkling of tall youngsters.

They can be counted upon to strengthen Ollie's hand when they mature. Here's wishing him all the luck in the world... he needs and deserves it!

Ed Williams Picked To Lead Haverford Gridders Next Year
Ed Williams, 6-foot-1, 170-pound tackle, will captain Haverford High's football team in defense of its Suburban Big Six championship during the 1946 season.

Announcement of Williams' election by Haverford gridders was made at the annual letter banquet Monday night in the senior high school. Williams, a junior, succeeds Co-captains Kim Billings and Jack Gilligan, guard and center, respectively.

Letters were awarded to members of four varsity teams by the coaches. Ethel David gave out hockey insignias, while Will Hill awarded letters to his succenters. Haverford's Suburban champion cross-country team received insignias from Coach Bill Brupner, while Bill Stinson, Steve Juenger and Allie Cornish, the honors in football.

Autocar Turning Out 25 Trucks Daily
An average of 25 heavy duty trucks is now being turned out daily by the Autocar Company, Ardmore.

An announcement by the company stated that orders now listed assure sustained employment for both day and night shifts. Daily production has increased since manufacture of heavy duty motor trucks for commercial use was resumed by Government allocation early last year.

New land and buildings recently bought in Ardmore will be used to increase production facilities early next year, company officials stated.

ATE WITH HATS ON

Lower Merion and Haverford High Open Basketball Seasons

Ollie Robinson Makes Debut As Coach of Maroon Team Prospects Poor For Fords

Merchantville Faces L. M. Courtmen in Ardmore Gym

By BOB KING
Lower Merion High's basketball team makes its debut under Ollie Robinson's guidance Friday night, meeting Merchantville, perennial opening-game opponent, in Downs Gymnasium.

Robinson, former Washington College court star who replaced Bill Anderson as Maroon mentor, is faced with a difficult task as L. M. embarks upon an ambitious schedule. The team is green and inexperienced and Robinson yesterday indicated he was "not very optimistic."

Buzz Wetherald, captain, is the only returning veteran from the 1944-45 squad which finished second to Haverford High in the Suburban Section One League race. Wetherald will start at guard, pairing with either Party Scott, 1945 football captain and backfield star, or another backfield mate, Dick Powell.

Either John Kane or Bill Reese will start at center. It doesn't matter which one starts so far as height is concerned; both stand 6-foot-3.

At forward, Robinson still is considering two of three possibilities. Dick Masters, a lanky 6-footer, Tom Davis and Len Shephard, the latter a football backfield have impressed at that position and two of the trio will get the starting assignment up front.

Three forward candidates and Guard Dave Reeves round out the varsity squad. The forwards are Joe Kern, Bob Hawkins and Tom Brown.

After Friday's opener, Lower Merion will travel to Coatesville next Tuesday night for an inter-league clash, then meet Friends Central in the Ardmore gymnasium December 21 in the final pre-holiday game.

Banquet to Honor Westgate Gridders
Sportswriters and Radio Analysts Will Be Guests Tuesday

Tom Moorehead, sports analyst and radio commentator, will be master of ceremonies Tuesday night at a banquet in honor of the Westgate Hills A. A. football team. The party will be held at the Lanchester Country Club.

Expected guests include Franice Murray, director of the Philadelphia Inquirer's "Chatterbox" column, and several members of the Philadelphia Eagles organization.

Entertainment acts and color movies taken periodically since the club was formed four years ago will follow the dinner. Maroon sweaters will be awarded to each player and the plaque, won by the team as champions of the Pop Warner Conference Junior Middleweight Division, will be displayed. Recognition will also be given to the men of Westgate Hills and Manoa who sponsored the team.

Dancing and refreshments will conclude the evening. Arrangements are being made by E. J. Howe, K. W. Ostrom and J. J. Leonard.

Women Golfers Plan Full Card Next Year
Dorothy Germain, Llanerch Country Club star and in Upper Darby, High graduate, will defend her Philadelphia women's golf championship next season as a result of the Women's Golf Association announcement that a complete tournament card will be played in 1946.

The Pennsylvania State championship also will be held in Philadelphia next season. Other events revived after a war-enforced lapse are the Whitelock Valley Cup for A Players, Overbrook Invitational, Boyle Cup, Nona Barlow Cup, Ida Dixon Invitation and the Howe Cup.

Haverford College Courtmen to Open Hornets Play Host To PMC Team in Inaugural

Haverford College's tall, rangy basketball team will open a 17-game schedule Saturday night, playing PMC in a Middle Atlantic AA Conference game at the Haverford gymnasium.

The Hornets, who have scrimmaged twice with Willow Grove NAS in pre-season warmups, appear to have another formidable foe. Coach Ray Mullin's squad lost only four games last season while winning 14.

Of the powerful 1944-45 team, four holdovers are on hand. Bob Clayton, Friends Select School product; Dave Johnson, who hails from Oakmont, N.Y.; School; and George Schuler, a Cleveland, Ohio, native.

Five of the 15 varsity players tower 6-foot-2. Roy Sproul, Haverford High alum; Gervyn's Dan Weaver, center; Cleveland's Chuck McGuire; Ted Wright, George Schuler, and Vic Johnson, Exeter Academy, all are that height.

Only an inch shorter on an inordinately tall team, at least as Haverford squads go, are Clayton, Friends Select's Tom Gerlach, and Ben Leichter, Vineland.

Other squad members are Bill Baker, George School, 5-foot-10; Tom Storn, Westtown, N. J., 5-foot-10; and Friends Select's Nate Cooper, 5-foot-10.

The complete schedule:
Dec. 15, F.M.C.; Rutgers, 19; Penn.
